we had, and that makes me so happy."

When talking about her why and what she wanted the brand to be, she said "just a little bit cool" in conversation then thought that this summed it up perfectly.

"Our product is unique. Each piece is produced using high quality commercial exterior signage products that are made to withstand the elements over time," she explains.

Art that reflects us

The idea for this business came about when searching for an outdoor artwork piece that reflected Deb and Johnny's personal style, and that of the artwork hanging in their home that the couple has collected over the last decade together.

"I couldn't find anything that matched my idea. What was lacking was something that I considered to be just a little bit cool," she says.

"We have our own style, and we love art and prints that are a bit different and reflect our personalities. We have a few large pieces we bought overseas on our honeymoon, and we also have some awesome prints we have brought back from LA over the years."

The prints that Just a little bit cool presents in the collections are designed and chosen based on current fashion and decor trends. Natural materials in with the outdoor environment are trending this summer.

"The A Coastal Vibe collection is a popular selection with locals and is perfect for creating that beachy feel, which is a trend that isn't going anywhere. Varying hues of blue and breaking waves are prevalent," Deb says.

"The Tropical Vibes story is right on point. Its leafy motifs are bold enough to be as daring as you like, and neutral enough to fit just about anywhere. They are just beautiful and would complement any wall."

Another firm favourite is The Modern Pop collection, which utilises bright colours and is fresh and fun. The designs give outdoor spaces an energising and simply delightful pop.

"People are spending so much more time in their outdoor spaces now; we think a statement piece is a crucial addition. Make it count, I'd say, and get a big piece of art that you and everyone around you will love."

Just a little bit cool is excited about collaborating with hot and upcoming artists and they have launched one artist collab already, working with local illustrator Zoe Sizemore who specialises in watercolour painting. Together, they have created the Skull Garden print.

"It showcases many of the beautiful, native New Zealand plants and features the North Island Kokako bird anchored by a skull, which gives the print a real edge."

Deb and Glenn are interested in working with other artists, both established and up and coming talent, to bring their artwork to a wider audience using a different medium.

"If you're an artist and you're interested in collaborating, we'd love to hear from you and see if we're a good fit," she says.
